CHILDREN TRY TO ESCAPE.

All Three Are Captured and Put to Death in the Dark With a Revolver.

CRIME WAS PRECONCEIVED.

Letter to Friend Gave First News of Tragedy—Poverty in the Presence of Christmas Thought to Have Been Cause.

Cleveland, O., Dec. 20.—Roscoe W. Derby, a machinist, about 45 years old, exterminated his family early to-day by shooting his wife, his three children and then himself.

The crime is believed to have been due to his dependency over the impoverished condition of the family purse and the near approach of Christmas.

The crimes were extraordinary in their thoroughness and there was evidently no mishap in their enactment. The wife was killed first, while sleeping at her husband's side in bed; two of the children were killed as they lay in bed, and the third, a young girl, was killed in the early morning, endeavoring to escape their merciless parent. The third child was killed in his bed after his elder brother and sister had been slain.

LETTER IN MAIL REVEALED CRIME.

The first knowledge of the crime was communicated in a letter written by Derby yesterday, which was sent him by special delivery. The letter was to the effect that when he had received the Derby family would be dead. When the friend hurried to the house this morning all that had been promised was seen to have been fulfilled.

The dead are:

Roscoe W. Derby; his wife, Della; Harold, aged 5; Alice, aged 7; and Thomas, aged 8. Derby had been downtown late last night, ostensibly shopping, but in all probability securing ammunition for his revolver. When he got home his wife and he talked with a neighbor, who had been calling over the approaching festive holiday. Derby was pale and seemed nervous. Shortly after his arrival at home the neighbor-left and the Derby family went to bed.

The crime, it is believed, was committed about 4 o'clock this morning. Mrs. Derby was shot to death in bed, two bullets having been fired into her forehead, and a third, probably fired after the children had been exterminated, in the back of her neck.

KILLED WIFE WHILE SHE SLEPT.

Mrs. Derby probably was killed during sleep, the expression on her face showing no sign of a struggle, and it was calm and peaceful.

Two of the children, however, had a struggle with their infuriated parent, because they had been awakened by the noise of the revolver and sought to escape him, but without avail.

Harold's body was found lying in a pool of blood in the dining-room with her face to the floor and a bullet in her breast. Harold's body was found in the dining-room with her face to the floor and a bullet in her breast.

From the location of the bullet in his head, the boy evidently was caught by his father in a strong grasp and held while the weapon was placed against the little fellow's forehead and the bullet sent him to his rest.

There was no evidence of a struggle on Alice's part. The last of the children to die was Thomas, aged 8. He had remained in bed, probably still asleep, and also received bullets in his head, dying instantly.

After the extraordinary crimes had been committed the perpetrator of them went into the bedroom, where his wife had been slain, and fired a bullet into his own brain.

A number of policeman race checks were found about the house, but no evidence of having been trying his luck on betting.

After Lying on Rocks at Keewana Hutchinson Makes Buffalo.

Buffalo, N. Y., Dec. 20.—The steamer J. T. Hutchinson, Captain Smith, which left Detroit on Thursday for this port, arrived here to-day under her own steam. The Hutchinson was stranded on the rocks off Keewana Point, Lake Superior. Her trip, a record-breaking one through the ice to Detroit, was resumed on Thursday, when she sailed from that port, accompanied by two ice breakers which conveyed her to clear water in Lake Erie.

During the voyage her own pumps and two additional ones placed aboard at work, four of her compartments being filled with water. She carries a cargo of 10,000 bushels of flaxseed. Every craft and plant with steam up gave her a hearty welcome as she entered Buffalo Harbor at 7 a. m.

AT HEBREW TEMPLE DEDICATION.

United Congregation Consecrates Synagogue at King's Highway and Morgan, Pastor of Mount Cabanne Christian Church Taking Part.

With the lighting of the perpetual lamp, the procession with the Torah and the reading of the Shema prayer of dedication, the Temple of the United Hebrew Congregation, at King's highway and Morgan street, yesterday was dedicated to the service of God and Judaism.

The rabbi of the orthodox Hebrew congregations of the city and the Reverend Frank G. Tyrrell, pastor of Mount Cabanne Christian Church, took part in the ceremonies, which, from beginning to end, closely followed the ancient traditions and customs of the Hebrews.

The Reverend Doctor Henry J. Messing, rabbi of the United Congregation, opened the service by reading the first three verses of the first chapter of Genesis. As the rabbi said "Let there be light" and finished the last of the verses, the choir above took up the theme by singing a response built around the sentiment:

"While the choir was singing, Isaac Rusk advanced to the altar and lighted the lamp, which is just above the ark. In all dedicated Hebrew temples the perpetual lamp is lighted, and, if possible, is never allowed to be extinguished.

Members of the congregation bore three Torahs around the temple, entering from the left, and finishing the procession on the altar. The sacred laws were then placed in the ark.

The ark is one of the features of the new temple, having been built since the building was purchased.

Doctor G. Moritz, on behalf of the Building Committee, presented the keys of the building to Samuel Marx, president of the congregation. Doctor Moritz in his short address gave a history of the congregation, saying that enough money was realized from the sale of the Olive street temple to purchase the new one, and that the building was now ready for occupancy.

Rabbi Spitz, who took part in the dedication, said that the new temple was a fitting place for the worship of God and the service of the community.

Addresses were delivered by the Reverend Doctor Leon Harrison, the Reverend Frank G. Tyrrell, William Sacks, president of the Young Men's Hebrew Association; Rabbi Rosentreter, who spoke for the Christian Nation.

REPORT REVIEWS INDIAN AFFAIRS.

Commission to the Five Civilized Tribes Resents Criticism of Work Under Way.

Indian Inspector Informed That the Town of Weleetka Was Built Without Authority.

WASHINGTON, Dec. 20.—The annual report of the commission to the Five Civilized Tribes, which for a decade has been engaged in the Indian Territory in the task of dissolving tribal governments, extinguishing communal title to the land, vesting possession and title in severally among the citizens of the tribes and assimilating tribal conditions generally to the American citizenship standards, says that the appropriations for the execution of the Curtis act now amount to nearly $1,000,000, and that in administering upon the five tribes, constituting the lands of these tribes, aggregating 20,000,000 acres, the commission has passed upon nearly 20,000 applications for citizenship enrollment and claims to the territory.

This report says that during the six months ending June 30 last, 10,679 allotments were made in the Cherokee Nation, indicating that the Cherokee should all have their homes assigned to them by the end of 1901, saving unexpected interruptions, and that the entire work of the territory will be disposed of, except such "remnants incident to such large undertakings, involving protracted contentions," by the end of the fiscal year 1902.

GOVERNMENT UPHOLD.

Regarding recent revelations in the Territory, the report says:

"The same interests are opposed to the completion of this business that were opposed to its being commenced, and as the end draws near they pursue with redoubled energy the same tactics of obstruction, fault-finding, exaggeration, slander and all manner of false statements, in order to confuse the situation, muddy the waters and embarrass, hinder and prevent the conclusion of the work."

"But every consideration of legitimate interest calls for the firm and consistent maintenance of the past and present policy of the Government; and we only ask of Congress and the administration, whose instruments we are, that before they heed these extraordinary statements, yet more extraordinary than those of 1888, they bear both sides now, as then, and venture the assertion that inquiry will develop that they are false in substance and are voiced only by men who have been felled, or are seeking to foil, in unlawful and predatory practices, or by credulous and deluded followers of such men."

SEGREGATION OF LANDS.

In view of the fact brought to light since the Delaware lands were segregated from the Cherokee, the commission expresses the opinion that those lands have not been selected with due regard for the interests of either the Delaware Indians generally or of other citizens of the Cherokee Nation, and that further proceedings bearing on the segregation of these lands will be absolutely necessary to protect the rights of the citizens concerned.

The commission recommends that Congress authorize the disposition of the excess lands of the Creek Indians under sealed bids for the benefit of the tribe, the funds derived therefrom to be used in equalizing the value of allotments among the Creek.

Complete allotments of 160 acres each have been made to 14,400 citizens of that tribe, and comparatively few allotments remain to be made. Allotments have been completed on the Seminole lands, and the surplus of 18,000 acres remains in that nation, and their sale under sealed bids is recommended.

To check the speculation in pine timber on the Cherokee and Chickasaw lands, the commission recommends the sale of the timber derived therefrom to be used in equalizing the value of allotments among the Cherokee and Chickasaw.

In German; Rabbi Samuel Sale and Rabbi Messing.

The service was marked by the rendition of beautiful music under the direction of H. S. Foyen and under the organ, and with Mrs. Black and Mrs. Wood as soloists.

After the dedication of the temple the Chanukah service took place. Chanukah, translated, is the Feast of Lights, and is in recognition of the deliverance of the Jews from the tyranny of Antiochus Epiphanes. Eight candles were lighted upon the Chanukah menorah, and the service was one of thanksgiving and rejoicing.

The United Hebrew Congregation was organized in 1877 of several smaller congregations, and a temple built on Fifth near Green street, or what is now Broadway and Locust avenues. In 1887 a new synagogue was erected on the east side of Sixth street between Locust and St. Charles streets. The temple, which is a fire and olive street was built in 1879, and the King's highway temple was purchased in 1891.

It was formerly the Mount Cabanne Christian Church. The interior of the temple has been greatly altered, and additions, such as the pipe organ, the galleries, the altar, and the ark have been made.

The present officers of the United Hebrew Congregation are: Samuel Marx, president; Morris Lipshitz, treasurer; and Jacob Warner, secretary.

Members of the congregation are: G. Aaronson, Joseph B. Goldsmith, Doctor G. Moritz, M. P. Silverstone, S. A. Gershon, Joseph Landau, S. J. Ruskack, M. Summerfield and Simon Zork.
